

Barry Lane (1944–2017) enjoying the fruits of cider-making at Old Ditch Farm, Westbury-sub-Mendip

SOMERSET ARCHAEOLOGY AND NATURAL HISTORY

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE SOMERSET ARCHAEOLOGICAL AND NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY FOR 2017

incorporating
ECOLOGY IN SOMERSET

VOL. 161

Honorary Editor
MARY SIRAUT

TAUNTON
2018

© 2018 Somerset Archaeological and Natural History Society and the authors, Somerset Heritage Centre, Taunton, Somerset TA2 6SF

ISSN 0081-2056

The Board of the Somerset Archaeological and Natural History Society is not responsible for any statement made, or opinion expressed, in the articles, notes, and reviews appearing in these Proceedings. The authors alone are responsible.

Front cover: Usnea florida, Webbers Post, Luccombe, October 2014 – a distinctive beard lichen, sensitive to air pollution and now much less abundant in Somerset than when recorded as ‘common’ by Walter Watson in 1930. With improving air quality, however, such species could start to re-colonise parts of their former range from which they are currently missing (Photo: Simon Leach)

The Society gratefully acknowledges all grants towards publication.

Produced in Great Britain by Short Run Press, Exeter

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Proposals should be made in writing to Editor. The proposal and all subsequent correspondence should be clearly dated and marked with the author's name, address, telephone number and e-mail address.

In making a proposal the author should bear in mind the charitable objects of the Society and that as a charity the Society has limited funds to support these objects. The current objects of the Society can be found on the website of the Charity Commission register number 201929. It is a condition of publication that the publication becomes the copyright of the Somerset Archaeological and Natural History Society as well as the author. Open access publication on the internet will be subject to a Creative Commons Attribution-Non Commercial CC BY-NC licence.

The author should indicate whether the paper is eligible for grant-aid.

The Editor will consider whether to accept the proposed paper and explore the matter further with the author or their nominated agent, subject to refereeing, or to refuse the proposal. The Editor retains the right to refuse without stating a reason.

Typescripts or word-processed documents may be submitted for consideration as an initial proposal but they must comply with the guidance for submissions for refereeing, which may be obtained from the Editor. Please indicate the number of figures (plates and line drawings) and, of those, the number you would like to see reproduced in colour.

In order to maintain standards of excellence all proposals for publication are submitted for refereeing.

THE SOCIETY'S WEBSITE

As well as providing access to its collections of books and pamphlets in the Library, artefacts in the Museum of Somerset, and other items of historical note in its archives, the Society website includes items of written, oral and video media for use in subject research. A number of past Proceedings have been digitised. Society publications are available for sale in the Society's online shop.